...what's happening at the friendly church on the hill

From the Rector

One of the great Advent readings is Isaiah 11: 1-10, and I invite you to re-read it:

"The royal line of David is like a tree that has been cut down; but just as new branches sprout from the stump, so a new king will arise from among David's descendants. The spirit of the Lord will give him wisdom and the knowledge and skill to rule his people. He will know the Lord's will and honor him and find pleasure in obeying him. He will not judge by appearance or hearsay; he will judge the poor fairly and defend the rights of the helpless. At his command, the people will be punished, and evil persons will die. He will rule his people with justice and integrity. Wolves and sheep will live together in peace, and leopards will lie down with young goats. Calves and lion cubs will feed together, and little children will take care of them. Cows and bears will eat together, and their calves and cubs will lie down in peace. Lions will eat straw as cattle do. Even a baby will not be harmed if it plays near a poisonous snake. On Zion, God's sacred hill, there will be nothing harmful or evil. The land will be as full of knowledge of the Lord as the seas are full of water."

Isaiah gives us an Advent message of how the spirit of God is moving and a new shoot is coming forth. The spirit of God is a part of this shoot and it will bear fruit like the stump never shoot and it will bear fruit like the stump never did. The spirit of understanding, wisdom, power, counsel, knowledge, and fear of the Lord is sprouting anew for us people of faith. God cuts down the sick trees of our lives, even if we like them, so something new and healthy can grow. In our failures, in that which has failed us, in that which is unmanageable and/or unbearable, God makes a new start.

So how do we respond to the message of Advent? How do we get off the stump? We need to see that Advent is a gift. It is not a boost, a move towards God; it is God coming to us. Our part is to respond to God in faith. It means being willing to see the possibility that God is really here. It means having faith — the assurance of things for which we hope and the confidence of that which is unseen. Isaiah gives us the image of a child: leading, playing, reaching, loving. We are called to a Faith that is not limited by what seems impossible - enemies lying together and eating together. In God's Kingdom, there will be reconciliation of our age-old enemies - our love and wrath, our fears and dreams, our faith and doubt, our best and worst. Advent is God saying, Isaiah talks about that person whom we prepare ourselves for - Jesus Christ. We move forward in faith in our lives. Scripture talks to us about our journey - desert to the promised land, exile to the kingdom, wilderness to the manger, and, cross to the empty tomb. It is a journey from hopelessness to possibility - a journey to Advent.

Advent begins the new Church year. It is a time to wipe the slate clean, to begin and expect something new, to believe afresh, to meet God all over again as if it were for the first time. So, as we begin this new year, I'm ready, and I hope you are too.

Happy New Year!

What Can I bring to the Christ Child?

We have a wonderful opportunity to support the Valley Diaper Bank in Seymour to provide Diapers and Baby Wipes for our young Valley families in need. As we celebrate this wonderful Feast of Christmas, let us remember that the Christ Child is still with us in those children in need. Let us offer a gift of Diapers and Baby Wipes as our special gift to the Christ Child. We will be collecting Diapers and Baby Wipes from December 24 through January 28. There will be a collection container in the Parish Hall.

We sincerely Thank You for any help that you can offer.
